JAARS—Who Are We?

JAARS staff desires to see God's Word translated and available for language communities worldwide—to see lives transformed for eternity. Working with partner organizations, JAARS supports multiple efforts and projects through strategically invested resources that touch 2000 current translation programs.

The Impact of Bible Translation

Before Bible translation began in the Orya language, its 2,000 speakers thought, Jesus Christ will not accept our prayers in the Orya language. We can't pray in Indonesian either, because our control of that language is so limited. Committed Christians numbered only around 25. Now, approximately 1,400 have received Christ as their Savior. Isaak Puhili, a literacy worker, says, "They now pray in the Orya language, preach in Orya, and worship the Lord in their own language. Now they understand that Jesus Christ is the God of all languages in the whole world."

Did You Know?

Although Bible translation is progressing at a more rapid rate today than ever before, an overwhelming amount of work has yet to be done. Of the 6,918 languages spoken in the world today, about 1,900 have no portion of the Bible. Many of these languages, spoken by about 340 million people in all, need translation work to begin. JAARS is committed to Vision 2025—that by the year 2025 a Bible translation project will be started for every language group that needs one.

We need a great team of people—like you—going, giving, and praying to provide God's Word to those waiting. We are trusting God to provide workers for over 3,000 currently identified positions, and to provide the funding needed to complete the current translation programs and start the remaining languages. Get involved! Talk to a Human Resources or Partnership Ministries representative today at JAARS Day. Or call 1-888-773-1178 weekdays.
