

COPY OF FORM 990

(TO BE USED, OR COPIED, FOR)

PUBLIC INSPECTION ONLY

NOTE

Under Internal Revenue Regulations, tax-exempt charitable organizations generally must provide requesters with COPIES of:

- Its approved exemption applications, all required attachments and any related correspondence with the IRS, and
- Its three most recent annual information returns (Form 990), including all schedules and attachments (but not the names and addresses of contributors).

In-person requests: A member of the public may request to inspect the documents at any principal office of the organization. The entity must provide the information requested that same day. However, if the request places an "unreasonable burden" on the organization, the staff must provide copies of the requested information no later than the next business day after the unusual circumstances cease to exist (limited to a maximum of five business days after the request).

Written requests: Written requests made by fax, mail, email, or overnight service, which include the requester's address, must be honored within 30 days of receipt.

Website alternative: Instead of providing copies, an organization may make the documents available on either its own or another organization's website. If it uses this option, it has to: (1) provide an exact replica of the document as was filed with the IRS; (2) advise requesters how to access the forms on the web; (3) the site should charge no access fee and require no special software or hardware to download. Organizations that post this information on the Internet still must honor in-person requests to view the applicable documents.

Permissible charges: Tax-exempt organizations may charge a reasonable copying fee, up to $1 for the first page and 15 cents for each additional page, plus actual postage costs.

Penalties: An organization that fails to comply with the new disclosure requirements may be subject to the following penalties:

- Annual Information Return – Form 990 - $20 per day for as long as the failure continues, up to a maximum of $10,000 for each failure to provide an annual return.
- Exemption Application - $20 per day with no maximum.
- An organization that willfully fails to comply with these public inspection rules can be subject to an additional $5,000 penalty.

Private foundation exempt: The new disclosure rules don't yet apply to private foundations. They must still make a copy of their annual return available for public inspection at their principal office for a period of 180 days after publishing a notice of availability.

Donor Information: Please note that donor information is not open to public inspection and has been excluded from this copy.

Pt I Ln 12g The amount shown in column vi represents the fair rental value of office space on the JAARS campus that was used by SIL personnel and for which no rent was paid to JAARS.

Pt IV Sec A Ln 1 From its inception, JAARS has supported Summer Institute of Linguistics, Inc. (d/b/a SIL International) by providing services that enabled SIL personnel to travel to the remote locations they serve and have the use of the most appropriate equipment to accomplish their tasks. SIL is named in JAARS' governing documents as a supported organization.

Wycliffe Bible Translators International, Inc. (d/b/a the Wycliffe Global Alliance) is a related organization (of both JAARS and SIL) made up of numerous organizations around the world that are also engaged in Bible translation, language development, Scripture engagement, literacy, and related initiatives. JAARS also supports these Wycliffe organizations with the same or similar services it provides to SIL. These relationships have existed for many years and are continuing. Wycliffe Global Alliance is not named as a supported organization in JAARS' governing documents.

Pt IV Sec E Ln 2a JAARS supports the language development and Bible translation efforts of SIL International, the organizations of the Wycliffe Global Alliance, and other partners. JAARS provides transportation services, media services, technology services, and training services that enable these organizations to accomplish their goals.

AVIATION: JAARS helps its international partners start and operate flight programs by recruiting and training staff, setting standards, acquiring and equipping aircraft, conducting on-site flight program R&D, and more. Air transportation of personnel and equipment saves days of land or water travel in many of the areas where our partners work. Currently we help aviation programs in Australia, Brazil, Cameroon, Indonesia, Papua New Guinea, Peru, and Tanzania.

LAND TRANSPORTATION: JAARS helps its international partners assess their travel challenges, determine the optimal vehicles for their situations, and acquire and/or outfit vehicles. We also develop and conduct training, both overseas and at our headquarters in North Carolina, for partners who need to operate and maintain motorcycles and four-wheel drive vehicles in rugged conditions.

WATER TRANSPORTATION: JAARS helps its international partners assess maritime travel challenges, determine the optimal watercraft for their situations, and acquire and/or outfit vessels. JAARS' involvement is to provide safe, sustainable travel for our partners' personnel. If a large vessel is needed, we support the planning, launch, and ongoing operations of the program. We also develop and conduct water safety training for partner staff.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY: JAARS helps its international partners, through services of SIL International and others, to assess IT and Internet connectivity challenges, develop effective solutions, and support funding and effective implementation of plans and technology. The use of technology enables local linguists and Bible translators in remote locations to utilize the latest software tools for translation, literacy, and Scripture engagement; to collaborate with each other; and to have access to consultants and experts while in remote locations.

MEDIA: JAARS helps its international partners, through services of

Continuation of Part VI – Supplemental Information

SIL International and others, to assess needs for non-print media and then supports the planning, production, and delivery of the Bible in audio and video formats particularly suited to specific language groups. We also provide office space and support services to about 40 SIL media staff at our North Carolina headquarters.

MINISTRY OPERATIONS: At its headquarters in North Carolina JAARS has facilities where:

- * Over 600 people work to support Bible translation, Scripture engagement, and language development, including IT and media teams from our main partner, SIL International

- * Pilots, technical staff, and other missionaries train before and during their ministry service

- * Aircraft, boats, and other equipment are prepared for international partners

- * Missionaries and their families rest and retool before returning to their assignments

- * Materials and supplies are purchased for international partners and shipped to them.

JAARS provides the above logistics support to SIL International, affiliates of the Wycliffe Global Alliance, and other related organizations who focus on Bible translation, Scripture engagement, and language development.

Pt IV Sec E Ln 2b

The services that JAARS provides to SIL International and its partners are integral to accomplishing their purpose. Without the aviation solutions provided by JAARS, SIL and its partners would have to develop their own resources to transport their staff and local people to and from the remote villages where they work, as well as provide the safety standards and training currently provided by JAARS. Without JAARS, SIL and its partners would have to develop expertise and solutions in land and water transportation, technology, and media, and train people to use them. Without JAARS, SIL would have to provide offices and support structures for approximately 80 technology and media staff who are currently working on the JAARS campus. These services are necessary for SIL and its partners to accomplish their exempt purposes.

Pt III, Line 1a JAARS established the Mexico Museum and the Museum of the Alphabet (museums) on its campus. The collections of the museums at JAARS, which were acquired through purchases and contributions since the organization's inception, are not recognized as assets on the statements of financial position and, thus, are not reflected on the financial statements. Purchases of collection items are recorded as decreases in unrestricted net assets in the year in which the items are acquired or as temporarily or permanently restricted net assets if the assets used to purchase the items are restricted by donors. Proceeds for disposals or insurance recoveries are reflected as increases in the appropriate net asset classes.

Pt III, Line 4 There are two museums located at the JAARS center.

The Museum of the Alphabet, a project initiated by Dr. W. Cameron Townsend, was inaugurated in 1990 and traces the history of writing from its beginning to the present. A metal sculpture of Mezrop Mastots of Armenia, a Sefer Torah scroll, a clay sculpture of Sequoia and many other artifacts from around the world add to the 75 colorful hand-painted displays. People groups that were reached by SIL's pioneer alphabet makers, with JAARS' help, are artistically portrayed in illustrations of their unique word spellings (including tone marks), their ways of adapting literacy into their culture, and their transformed lives. A computer display shows the kinds of software tools that modern alphabet makers can use today.

Pt III, Line 4

The Mexico-Cardenas Museum was established in 1977 by SIL to show appreciation to the people of Mexico and to honor the memory of their former president, Lazaro Cardenas, with whom JAARS founder, Cameron Townsend, had established diplomatic relations and a life-long friendship. First-time primers, dictionaries, and grammars are on display with completed New Testament translations - a result of the years of hard work, dedication, and faith of many trained linguists. Pictures and videos in the museum tell the stories of Scriptures-in-use.

Special speakers, live music, and food attract crowds on JAARS Days, when visitors can ask questions about Bible translating and hear some inspiring stories. Missionaries visiting JAARS for training will be inspired by the exhibits in this museum. The Mexico-Cardenas Museum currently has a display of 31 recently translated scriptures from several countries. Future plans include interactive displays showing particular ways that JAARS serves the Bible translation effort.

Pt III, Line 4

The museums educate visitors in the history of translating the Bible into many languages that people speak in their homes and villages.

We hope these visitors will catch the vision for how important this mission is to bring peace to people's hearts and lives. People who have visited these museums have become missionaries, volunteers, and contributors to JAARS' mission.
